

Reading/Language Arts Resources:

To follow the links, put the curser over the link, hold the control key and left click

- <http://www.education.com/games/reading/phonics/>
This site includes games to reinforce phonics for various letters and letter groups.
- <http://interactivesites.weebly.com/language-arts.html>
This site includes games for capitalization, grammar, parts of speech, punctuation, sight words, sentences, vocabulary, writing and others.
- <http://www.carlisleschools.org/webpages/pluta/teacher.cfm?subpage=1265199>
This site has a number of articles and questions to help students practice various comprehension skills including determining author's purpose, cause and effect, characterization, compare and contrast, context clues, figurative language, inferences, main ideas, summaries, story elements, text features, and others. The site also includes a number of practice tests.
- <http://mrnuessbaum.com/readingpassageindex/>
This site offers a bank of short reading passages and a series of comprehension questions (identified by grade level) for students who have difficulty retelling what they have read.
- <http://webs.morton709.org/elementary/RTI%20Final%20Project/Student%20Activity%20docs/Comprehension%20Student%20Activities%204-6.htm>
This site has a number of articles and questions to help students practice various comprehension skills including determining author's purpose, cause and effect, characterization, compare and contrast, context clues, figurative language, inferences, main ideas, summaries, story elements, text features, and others